TOWN OF NORTH RICHMOND SELLS BONDS AT PREMIUM

Certainty of Annexation Gives Issue Practically the City's Guarantee.
WILL INSTALL WATER SYSTEM
Whole Proceeds Must Be Expended in Improvements in Town Limits, Notwithstanding Annexation—Provisions of Decree.

Bonds recently issued by the town of North Richmond to cover a large expenditure of money for the improvement of the town, have been sold at a premium of 10 per cent. The bonds, which were sold through the First Trust Company for the total sum of $25,000, are in the hands of the town of North Richmond, and the sale was made at an opportune time, for when the decree of the court in the annexation case is rendered, the town of North Richmond will be a part of the city of Richmond, and the provisions of the decree will require that the town of North Richmond shall expend the proceeds of the sale of the bonds in the improvement of the town.

In other words, after September 1, when the annexation decree is rendered, the entire city must aid in the payment of interest on the bonds which have been sold, and the money derived from the sale must be spent for improvements in North Richmond, and in no other way.

It was stated last night that the money derived from the sale of the bonds will be applied to street improvements, and that the town of North Richmond will be able to pay the interest on the bonds from the proceeds of the sale of the bonds.

Those familiar with municipal finance and the sale of the bonds of North Richmond, will be glad to know that the town of North Richmond has secured a loan of $25,000, which will be used for the improvement of the town, and that the town of North Richmond will be able to pay the interest on the bonds from the proceeds of the sale of the bonds.

WET AND DRY LAWS TO BE CONSIDERED

Supreme Court of Appeals Grants Writ of Error to A. B. Wiseman.

CHARGED WITH SOLICITING

Agent Says He Brought Orders to Richmond as Matter of Mutual Accommodation.

If a man who happens to be connected with a liquor business in a territory where the liquor business is a "dry" town, and he happens to be a "wet" man, he is in a bad way. This is the case of A. B. Wiseman, who is charged with soliciting liquor in Richmond. He is a "wet" man, and he is in a bad way.

The Circuit Court of Louisa County says it has. A. B. Wiseman, of Richmond, and his lawyers say it has not. That there is room for doubt is evidenced by the action of the Supreme Court of Appeals, which yesterday granted Wiseman's petition for a writ of error and supersedeas.

CASE COMES UP FROM

Wiseman was tried and convicted in Louisa County, and he is now in prison. He is charged with soliciting liquor in Richmond, and he is in a bad way. The Supreme Court of Appeals has granted him a writ of error and supersedeas, and he is now out of prison.

Wiseman denies in his petition that he violated any law. He sets forth that he did not go to Louisa to sell liquor, but that he went there to collect some accounts due. He claims that when he was approached by the sheriff, he was not in the act of selling liquor, but that he was in the act of collecting accounts.

His lawyers demurred to the indictment, and the court quashed it on the ground that it was not charged that the order was solicited by the accused or by anyone else. The Louisa County, however, refused to put aside the indictment.

CLAIM ORDER WAS

NOT SOLICITED BY ACCUSED. His lawyers demurred to the indictment, and the court quashed it on the ground that it was not charged that the order was solicited by the accused or by anyone else.

In his petition for a rehearing Gillum represents that the court erred in overruling the demurrer to the indictment and in certifying the petition to the evidence as verified in the record.

The Supreme Court also granted a writ of error and supersedeas in the case of Leode Perkins, a legal infant, who was injured by a horse owned by L. H. Perkins, vs. Southern Railway Company. This case comes from the Circuit Court of Pittsylvania County, where Leode Perkins, a seventeen-year-old boy, was injured by a horse owned by L. H. Perkins, vs. Southern Railway Company.

CORR FINED UNDER NEW

JUVENILE STATUTE

Act Provides Penalty for Any One Encouraging a Person Under Eighteen to Commit Misdemeanor.

It was reported that a young man, captured when the police raided a house on West Main Street Tuesday afternoon, was fined $100 and costs by Justice Crutchfield on a charge of encouraging a juvenile to commit a misdemeanor.

The fine was made possible by a law passed at the last session of the General Assembly, and the case yesterday furnished the first application of this penalty.

The new law under which Corr was fined $100 provides that any person who encourages a person under eighteen to commit a misdemeanor or to violate any law shall be fined $100 and costs.

HIRSCHBERG HAS OVERFLOW CROWD

Big Rally of His Supporters Is Held at Belvidere Hall.

HOBSON SPEAKS IN FULTON

Administrative Board Candidates Address Southside Voters To-Morrow Night.

An overflow crowd of between 600 and 700 people turned out at Belvidere Hall last night to hear prominent citizens make speeches supporting the candidacy of John Hirschberg for a seat on the Administrative Board.

One after another, men prominent in the city's professional and business life, came to the support of Mr. Hirschberg's candidacy with speeches commending his record as a public servant. A majority of those who made speeches last night told the gathering that they had opposed Mr. Hirschberg when he was a candidate two years ago, but that they are now prepared to support him to the last.

PROMINENT MEN

Among those who made speeches were Mr. Charles R. Robins, William B. Pizant, Harry M. Smith, Robert Lecky, Jr., Robert Whittey, Jr., Howard T. Colvin, Dr. B. L. Hillsman, R. L. Yarnall, D. C. O'Flaherty, Ordway Puller and Dr. A. G. Brown. Mr. Lecky presided over the gathering, which was held at Belvidere Hall.

Mr. Hirschberg was presented by Chairman Morris as the last speaker of the evening, and made a thirty-minute address. For the first time during the campaign, he took occasion to reply to charges preferred against his administration in connection with the bridge, pole, paving and electric house bills. His statement of the transactions, as they appeared to the board, seemed to satisfy the audience fully, and his speech was repeatedly interrupted by applause.

HOBSON SUPPORTERS

While the Hirschberg meeting was in progress at Belvidere Hall, a gathering of about 150 voters met at the residence of Fulton, to hear an address by Graham B. Hobson, one of the five candidates for election to the board. Walter Rock presided, and presented C. W. Hodges, who introduced the candidate. Mr. Hobson's speech was received with warm applause.

CANNOT SECURE DAMAGES

FOR FALL ON SIDEWALK

City Attorney Pollard Holds That Slight Unpleasantness in Paving Is Not Ground for Claim.

In an opinion rendered yesterday, City Attorney Pollard holds that the city cannot be held liable for damages when a person stumbles over a ridge in a street pavement that is under construction. The opinion bears upon the case of Mary Chamberlaine, who filed a petition for damages in the sum of $100 for injuries alleged to have been sustained by her in falling over a ridge in the pavement at Pine and Main Streets.

The opinion bears upon the case of Mary Chamberlaine, who filed a petition for damages in the sum of $100 for injuries alleged to have been sustained by her in falling over a ridge in the pavement at Pine and Main Streets.

In his communication to the board, the City Attorney states that so slight an obstruction does not render the city in any way liable for the accident, and recommends that the claim be rejected. The board yesterday ordered that the claim be rejected.

MISS CHENAUT AGAIN BEFORE GRAND JURY

Summoned to Appear This Morning at 10 o'clock at County Courthouse.

TRUE BILL ONCE RETURNED

Commonwealth's Attorney Sutton Declines to Give Reasons for Re-opening Case Once Passed Upon by Grand Jurors.

Fresh interest was aroused in the Chenault assault case yesterday afternoon when it became known that Commonwealth's Attorney Sutton, of Henrico County, had caused Miss Chenault to be summoned before the grand jury when it convenes this morning at 10 o'clock. Since the grand jury has already returned a true bill against the negro, John Clements, charged with a capital crime against Miss Chenault, those who have watched each development in the case are at a loss for an explanation as to why Miss Chenault should be required to appear before the grand jury the second time.

That the grand jury will either revoke or modify the indictment against the negro, who is now charged with a capital offense, is the opinion prevailing among many who are interested in the case. Questioned last night as to his reason in causing the summons to be issued, the Commonwealth's attorney declared that there was absolutely nothing to be given out in relation to a matter which is the property of the grand jury.

It was stated on good authority yesterday that the grand jury has not been discharged, and it has been suggested that the grand jury will either revoke or modify any indictment returned against the negro, who is now charged with a capital offense. The Chenault case is the subject of much discussion in the city.

MAN ALLOWED TO GO FREE TO PROTECT GIRL'S NAME

Young Woman Lured to Disreputable Place, Believing It a Party.

POLICE MAKE PROMPT RAID

No Charges Are Made, as Innocent Woman Would Be Forced to Appear as Witness—Makes Pathetic Appeal for Protection.

Hidden away in an attic room of a house in a disreputable section of the city, the child of some anxious mother was last night discovered by the police and rescued before the man who had lured her to the place had injured her. She had been most dragged to the place, according to the person who informed the police, and on whose word the officers raided the house and had been induced to drink two glasses of beer.

And because it was necessary to protect the innocent girl's reputation and character, the man who was foiled from entering the house was not allowed to go free. The police made a prompt raid on the house, and the man was taken into custody.
